

iGolf GPS Caddie Featured on Golf Smarter Podcast

San Diego, California, March 15, 2007 – The iGolf GPS Caddie has been featured on the Golf Smarter Podcast, the most popular golf podcast on the Internet. Golf Smarter is a weekly show hosted by Fred Greene, who interviews PGA Professionals, instructors, caddies, and writers to provide listeners with strategy, tips, drills, advice, course management skills and insight for golfers of all skill levels.

During a recent show, Fred spoke with Mario Bellomo, the First Assistant Pro at the exclusive Inverness Club in Toledo, Ohio. Mario talked about the increased usage of hand held GPS devices in golf today, and described his positive experiences with the GPS Caddie during instructional sessions with students and members at Inverness.
